A good deal of legislation on a wide variety of subjects will be placed on the statute books before the session comes to an end. This parliament will, however, probably be judged by its restraint as well as by its achievements in the form of actual legislation.

Let us place an instant at the economic and political conditions which form the background to the parliament's operations. There has been a recession in business from the high water marks in September and October of last year. The slackening of business has been much less pronounced than the slump in the United States. This has been the subject of comment in United States papers, the moral drawn being that Canada is suffering less than her great neighbor because Canada has avoided pump printing and other colossal economic experiments.

After the opening of parliament the Minister of Labor will announce the specific measures which the government will adopt in its campaign against unemployment. We have been told that these measures will lay claim to the encouragement and assistance of industrial activities and the development and conservation of our natural resources. While business in Canada, on account of the effect in this country of conditions in the West and moisture watch with anxiety the efforts of the Washington government to solve its difficulties in railway and other fields, we have at least been spared the bitterness of the drastic recession that has fallen to the lot of industry in the United States. If we have a good crop in the West and moisture conditions at seedling time are certainly favorable, Canadian business will be greatly helped.

The unemployment insurance amendment seems likely to remain in abeyance. New Brunswick's answer, to the Dominion query, that the government of that province would prefer not to agree until the Howell Commission brings in a report on the general division of power, has another spoke in the wheel of an early unemployment insurance measure.

A high light of the balance of the session will be the trade pact with the United States, now under negotiation at Washington. Making a trade treaty with the United States needed for so long to a policy of high tariffs is not the child's play. One may easily imagine the flood of warnings of disaster from all parts of the country that must have been pouring into Washington. But the pact on which high hopes are built will come in due course. Whether it can come in time to have its tariff changes incorporated in the budget is more of a question. There have been rumors that the Anglo-American pact will be completed before our treaty with the United States.

A feature of the post-session session will be the budget of Mr. Dunning. When it will be introduced is not certain. That may depend on when the trade pact with the United States is signed. The provisions of the budget are of course most carefully guarded. Some questions being asked are: will there be reductions on farm implement tariffs asked by Western members? and will there be any reduction in sales and excise taxes on duty levied by H. J. Dunningham of Huron County? With business not holding the 1937 levels thus far at least, there seems little likelihood of any important cut in taxes.

The electoral reform bill, curtailing and giving publicity to election contributions and expenses, and dealing with methods of electing members to parliament, the transport bill creating a Transport Board and controlling inland shipping and air traffic, less than legislation, a bill based on the report of the grain commission, unemployment relief measures, debates on estimates, discussion of the railway problem in senate committee are a few of the important matters which will engage the energies of the members of parliament before the heat of summer will bring their activities for the session to an end.

VIMY BANQUET VERY ENJOYABLE

The Vimy Memorial banquet again brought together a large number of comrades under families and friends. The evening throughout was most interesting with a very varied programme of excellent quality.

About 200 were seated at the long tables adorned with daisies and streamers of red, white and blue.

The newly-elected President, Comrade Victor presented in able manner. Two facts he told, new to him until recently, and probably to a large number present, that the French government had presented to Canada 250 acres of land around the Vimy, and that soil from every Province in the Dominion had been deposited there.

Following the banquet, Grace by Rose Alkewy and a minute silence observance, terminated by Canon Winter repeating "They shall not pass," and "Vain to the guests the thoughtfully proposed by A. D. Simpson was unanimously and gratefully responded to by T. S. Hughes.

The toast to the ladies was graciously proposed by S. H. Crowther, and a pleasing response was given by Mrs. G. H. Patrick.

Interpreting these words the following numbers were given—Vocal trio—Mrs. T. S. Hughes, Miss Folk and Miss Grazer, singing Alice Bledsoe by W. Laing, and a clever satire sung by G. H. Patrick, in his own humorous vein; Violin solo—Londonderry Air, selectively played by 100; W. Laing; and a clever satire sung by G. H. Patrick, in his own humorous vein; Violin solo—Londonderry Air, selectively played by 100; W. Laing; and a clever satire sung by G. H. Patrick, in his own humorous vein.

The address of the evening was given by Lt. Col. Cavanaugh of Calgary. The speaker said he had been asked to speak on anything but war, because he chose the subject which he knew best. Early days of the automobile industry. He paid tribute to the men of Vimy by stating that this victory was a milestone in the history of Canada, to that her people as a result had reached maturity and were henceforth recognized among the other nations.

Lt. Col. Cavanaugh in his opening statements said that civilization is a result of transportation and that progress of national dominion on their transportation facilities. On the American continent the history of the Automobile industry is largely within the last year. The ratio per cent of wheels used in Europe and America is 1:5. The conflict of competition in this line began in France in 1896.

The speaker listed from 25 to 30 names of men active in the industry, some now forgotten, in coming to the U. S. He stated that "Haines Vinton and Ford built the first cars on this continent. The Canadian plant of Henry Ford was established in 1901 with a capital of $25,000. This forms a part of the development of one of the world's largest industries that exists today.

The convenience, comfort, and safety of motor travel today is the result of the vision, planning and faith of the early pioneers in the motor industry.

The remaining part of the program was contributed by a group of Calgary artists, comprising Mrs. Helen House, pianist; Mrs. Helen Jeffries, soprano; Mrs. Higinbotham, soprano; Miss Dorothy White, and Mr. Colin Gray, tenor, and Mr. Patrick, and a whistling solo by Mrs. Schulte.

That each of these excellent artists delighted the audience with their separate and collective contributions was very evident. Each one has voice and ability of very high caliber. Encores were graciously given.

The Family Breakfast, an entertaining and humorous skit originated and arranged by Mrs. House, was unique and proved an interesting innovation.

God Save The King concluded this part of the entertainment, and another celebration of the Vimy Victory passed into history. The C. G. I. T. daintily attired assisted by a number of youths, efficiently waited on table. A dance followed with music supplied by the Walter Mercer orchestra.

The committee of arrangement is to be congratulated on the general success.

BEST GROUNDWORK FOR GOOD WESTERN WHEAT CROP SINCE 1928 REPORTED BY HASSEY-HARRIS FIELD

Four months of varying weather and moisture conditions stretch between today and June 1928 harvest days when farmers, industrious and business men generally will know for certain whether or not an excellent Western wheat crop will be available. It means so much that all eyes will be on Western weather, but in the meantime it is an excellent sign to know that James S. Duncan, vice-president and general manager of the Hassey-Harris Company, returns from a trip to the agencies of the company in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, with the knowledge that conditions, at least for germination, are excellent. That is all anybody can say at this time, and it is much.

Not since 1928, he told The Globe and Mail recently, is answer to inquires concerning Western conditions, has the groundwork been so good as now.

The report which I heard most every Province can be set up as saying that crop conditions are very encouraging. One year ago I went through the West—I found great deal of optimism, but it based on improved general business in Canada, including markets, quotations for grain, but late last year in the optimism which I encountered in the West is based almost entirely on the prevalent moisture conditions. In Saskatchewan moisture conditions are 87 per cent of normal; in Alberta 105 per cent of normal; and in Manitoba 130 per cent of normal. There was a considerable fall of snow during the winter and in some years that passes off without the ground getting much snow. Of course, when I say there is weather a month ago, and a good deal of the melted snow went into the ground. The dry belt also received an excellent rain ten days ago. It affected all of Saskatchewan from the United States border right up to the foothills in the North.

"Of course, when I say there is good groundwork for germination I am not trying to say there will be a good crop but it is an excellent beginning."

Stopping off in Calgary recently on his tour of the company's branches, James S. Duncan, vice-president and general manager of Hassey-Harris Company, Limited, said that "The heavy snow moisture, along with the fact that Canada's wheat supply has reached the lowest point in years with no encumbering and unwieldy surplus, should result in an extremely good year for the farmers of Western Canada."

Normal precipitations during the growing season is, in Mr. Duncan's opinion, the most important factor in an average crop, which should be readily marketable at a price which will bring a good return to the farmer.

Better prices prevail at present for most farm products; in fact, he remarked, "sufficiently better in comparison with the things the farmer has to buy to bring the purchasing power of farm products generally, back to the 1925 level."

Dispel Misconceptions

"Many people in Western Canada have the impression that the Canadian farm implement industry is highly protected," said Mr. Duncan, "whereas the actual duty is only 7.5 per cent, apart from certain important implements, like tractors, that are admitted free. I realize that the tariff is a very contentious matter, and I do not want to stir up any hot issues, but I do not think any one could consider 7.5 per cent duty a 'protective' tariff. Economists and tariff experts will agree that actually a duty of 7.5 per cent may be looked on as merely a revenue tariff rate."

"A glance at the tariff structure in other countries should serve to dispel misconceptions as to the supposedly favoured position of the Canadian implement industry. In Australia a duty of 45 per cent was followed by an absolute embargo in 1930 on a number of important implements—the embargo has since been removed but the duty remains. In New Zealand the duty is 3 per cent plus a per cent surtax on implements similar to those being made in the country. In the Argentine a 10 per cent surtax has been made much heavier by currency depreciation and special taxes on imports.

In Europe and in European countries tariff duties, quotas, exchange controls and other restrictions have rendered the importation of Canadian implements virtually impossible," Mr. Duncan concluded.

Victoria Garden Beauties Bring Joy to Thousands

SHIRLEY TEMPLE, darling of movie-going millions, summed up world-wide opinion in a sentence when she said of the Empire Hotel gardens in Victoria, B.C.: "They're beautiful. I'd love to stay here a whole year."

And other choice gardens of the British Columbia capital will be thrown open to public view for a full week starting May 4 during the eighth-day garden festival, the first of its kind in the province.

Garden week in Victoria has become an institution whose uniqueness attracts thousands of visitors to Vancouver Island every spring. The gardens at this time of the year are a glorious riot of bloom because in that western clime, variety and rich colorings.

In addition an enterprising programme has been planned for the management of the Empire Hotel, sponsor of the event. There will be flower shows, talks on flowers by world famous horticulturists, and many informal parties.

BEAUTIFUL GARDEN CONTEST

The following has been adjudged the best answer to the questionnaire as to the place of legislation which in your opinion would do the most good, for which the Gladioli bulbs given by Mr. Cohen R. Burnell of Willow-Brake farm, Oakville, Manitoba, is the prize awarded. The contest being sponsored by the Strathmore Standard.

"Resolved—That an adequate sum be set aside for extended Social Service in every rural and urban district. This would benefit the nation's potential power—its children. To combat the future of rice there would be set up interest to grip and hold the youth of the country in their plastic, sensitive years. Instead of the stultifying "Thou shalt not," would be used the positive guided expression of immature impulses which brings growth and sanity. Competent and sympathetic leaders in well equipped buildings would be available for all districts, with the motto—'Self-knowledge, self-reliance, self-control; These three alone lead life to sorrow power.'" giving of his best and entering into the spirit of the plot. Miss Ellen

TAKING STOCK OF LIFE

"Is life worth living? Well, so much depends on who are your neighbors, and what your thoughts, and what your desires, and on whether your garden grows roses or lilies. If you are a miser, and worship your gold, And for it would suffer with hunger and cold; If grudging the poor to increase your gains is the principal thought that's employing your brain; To such, I would say, this life is a curse. Its pleasures used up in an old leather purse. You can't take your gold along when you die; If you could, it would melt in the warm bye and bye. If you have a heart sympathizing with others, A feeling that all mankind are your brothers; If the beauties which God has planted down here Are in touch and in tune with your eye and your ear— If to live a pure life is your greatest desire, And to manly manhood you ever aspire; If one friend remains who will stand by your side And be kind to your hand whatever be tide, Though fate may have saddened your life in the past, Fear not, look upward, you'll conquer at last. The fruits of your labours all ripe, at the end, You'll gather, and life is worth living my friend."

—Blairmore Enterprise—

UNITY!
 We are living in days of grave unrest, and a majority of the people within the borders of Alberta are greatly disturbed by the political chaos which is today, and for over two years has been their lot. Many thousands of them are dissatisfied with our present administration, and would replace it with responsible government, possessing constructive and workable policies, and to this end they desire a truce between our provincial political parties. It is planned to make Unity what its name signifies a united front to elect at the next election, men responsible men who will give to this Province sane, practical, workable government. Working towards this purpose are groups of citizens throughout the Province, who have chosen John I. McFarland as chair man of the temporary group. The program democratically constructed aims to embody the viewpoint of the majority of the taxpayers. All earnest thinking people should put aside any thought of personal interest and political profit, and think and act only for the greater good of the Province. Let us choose men big enough to do this.

the Province. Let us choose men big enough to do this.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. L. G. Strange
 Director "Crop Testing Plan"

Exchanging the products of the soil of one country for the fruits of the labour of people in other areas, has been practiced since the earliest times. Wheat grows five or six thousand years ago on the fertile plains of the valleys of the Nile in Egypt and the Euphrates and Tigris Rivers in ancient Mesopotamia and was a most important product in this international exchange. Succeeding waves of civilizations farmed these same lands. The Sumerians, the Assyrians, the Babylonians, the Chaldeans, the Hebrews, the Medes, the Persians, the Phoenicians, the Egyptians, the Ethiopians, the Greeks and the Romans, all in their turn were producers and exporters of wheat.

Then Britain, Poland, Roumania, Russia, the Argentinians, the United States, and later Canada, became each in turn, the chief World wheat exporters.

Canada two years ago shipped wheat and flour to 92 different countries, and to 61 this last year. For 6,000 years it has been recognized that the exchanging of products between nations was the surest way to improve the standard of living of the people. It seems a pity now that Governments are acting contrary to the teachings of history, by placing artificial restrictions in the way of that international trade which has ever been so beneficial to mankind. Great wars are fought—battles are won and lost—nations and civilizations rise, flourish and decay—Governments come and go—Statesmen, Politicians and Dictators have their brief day—"The Captains and the Kings depart."

Such has been the history of the world for untold ages, but throughout it all, with quiet, dogged persistency farmers have ever continued steadily to grow foodstuffs for the people.

The story of the production of wheat, barley and rice is interwoven with the story of mankind, with its hopes and despair, love and hate, victories and defeat.

Soldiers and armies pass and repass, despoil the land and rule the countryside, but before battles, in the midst of battles and immediately after battles, farmers ever continue unflinchingly to perform their essential tasks.

Veterans of the Great War will recall how in France and in Belgium the farmers would sow their grain, often under shellfire, and then, usually with their womenfolk to help, would follow immediately on the heels of the battle lines gathering the precious
